

GROWTH ADVISORY

Brand & Design System

Version 1.0 | April 2026

Growth advisory for ambitious Australian B2B SaaS companies.

Brand Colour Palette

Contents

1	Brand Identity Positioning, personality, and purpose
2	Colour Palette Primary, secondary, and accessible combinations
3	Typography Font stack, type scale, and usage rules
4	Logo & Visual Identity Components, versions, and usage rules
5	Voice & Tone Writing principles and tone by content type
6	Language Rules Always use, never use, and preferred alternatives
7	Content Templates LinkedIn, proposals, and email signature
8	AI-Specific Instructions How to load and use this system with AI tools
9	Document Standards File formats, naming, and layout rules
10	Do's & Don'ts Summary Quick-reference brand checklist

1. Brand Identity

Who We Are

BK Growth Advisory is a B2B SaaS marketing advisory practice based in Sydney, Australia. We work with ambitious founders and marketing leaders who are ready to scale but need senior strategic capability without a full-time CMO overhead.

We act as a fractional CMO and trusted growth partner. Our clients are typically Series A to Series B B2B SaaS companies operating in APAC, with global ambitions.

Positioning Statement

Growth advisory for ambitious Australian B2B SaaS companies. We bring the strategic rigour of an experienced CMO to companies at the stage where marketing decisions matter most — without the cost or commitment of a full-time hire.

Brand Personality

Sharp — We say what we think. No hedging.

Authoritative — We've done this before. We speak with earned confidence.

Warm — Expert, not cold. We care about the businesses we work with.

Direct — We lead with the point, not the preamble.

Premium — Our standards are high. The work reflects that.

What We Are Not

- ❑ We are not A full-service agency
- ❑ We are not A junior consulting firm
- ❑ We are not Vague or wishy-washy
- ❑ We are not Performatively humble
- ❑ We are not American in our language (Australian English always)

2. Colour Palette

Primary Colours

	Deep Forest #162118 RGB 22, 33, 24	Primary background; hero sections; dark mode base
	Champagne #D4C09A RGB 212, 192, 154	Primary text on dark backgrounds; headlines; logo BK letterform
	Antique Gold #C09B5A RGB 192, 155, 90	Secondary text; dividers; accent elements; CTA borders
	Sage Accent #8A9E52 RGB 138, 158, 82	Highlight accent only. Use sparingly — one element per page maximum.

Secondary Colours

	Warm Ivory #F5EFE0 RGB 245, 239, 224	Light mode backgrounds; document body; email backgrounds
	Dark Charcoal #1E1E1E RGB 30, 30, 30	Body text on light backgrounds
	Mid Warm Grey #8C8070 RGB 140, 128, 112	Captions; footnotes; secondary metadata
	Pale Gold Tint #EDE0C4 RGB 237, 224, 196	Section dividers; table header rows on light backgrounds

Colour Usage Rules

DO:

- Use Deep Forest (#162118) as the dominant dark surface.
- Use Champagne (#D4C09A) for headline text on dark backgrounds.
- Use Antique Gold (#C09B5A) for accents, borders, and supporting text.
- Use Sage Accent (#8A9E52) sparingly — one callout per page maximum.
- Pair Warm Ivory backgrounds with Dark Charcoal body text.

DO NOT:

- Use pure white (FFFFFF) — it clashes with the warm palette.
- Use Sage Accent as a background or large fill colour.
- Introduce colours not listed in this palette.
- Use the Deep Forest background for long-form body text.

Accessible Combinations

Foreground	Background	Contrast	AA?
Champagne #D4C09A	Deep Forest #162118	~7.2:1	Pass
Dark Charcoal #1E1E1E	Warm Ivory #F5EFE0	~14.5:1	Pass

Antique Gold #C09B5A	Deep Forest #162118	~4.6:1	AA Pass
Mid Warm Grey #8C8070	Warm Ivory #F5EFE0	~3.5:1	AA Large only

3. Typography

BK Growth Advisory uses a layered type system: a luxury display serif for brand presence, a geometric sans-serif for labels and structure, and a clean readable face for body content. All fonts are available free via Google Fonts.

Font Stack

Role	Font	Weight	Notes
Display / Title	Cormorant Garamond	600 SemiBold	Hero headlines, proposal covers, section openers
Subheadings H2–H3	Raleway	500–600	Tracked +0.05em; clean, structural
Body (digital)	Inter	400	Default for web, emails, and digital docs
Body (print/PDF)	Libre Baskerville	400	Proposals, formal deliverables, printed reports
Labels / Captions	Raleway	300–400	Small text, table headers, footnotes
Data / Code	JetBrains Mono	400	Metric callouts, technical references

Type Scale (Desktop)

Element	Size	Weight	Line Height
Document Title	36–48px	600	1.15
H1	32px	600	1.2
H2	24px	600	1.3
H3	18px	500	1.4
Body	16px	400	1.65
Caption / Label	12–13px	400	1.5
Footnote	11px	300	1.5

Typography Rules

- Never use more than two typefaces in one document.
- Heading hierarchy must be consistent: do not skip levels.
- Minimum body font size: 14px digital, 11pt print.
- Letter spacing on Raleway labels: +0.05em to +0.08em.
- Avoid all-caps body text (labels and logos only).
- Line length for body text: 60–75 characters per line maximum.

4. Logo & Visual Identity

Logo Components

- BK monogram — Large, serif letterforms in Champagne on dark background.
- Vertical rule — A thin Antique Gold divider line separating monogram from wordmark.
- GROWTH ADVISORY wordmark — Tracked, spaced text in Antique Gold.
- Sage accent mark — A small organic olive/leaf motif on the K, in Sage Accent #8A9E52.

Logo Colour Versions

Version	Background	When to Use
Full colour (dark)	Deep Forest #162118	Default — presentations, proposals, email signatures
Reversed (light)	Warm Ivory #F5EFE0	Light-background documents
Greyscale	Any neutral	B&W print contexts only

Logo Usage Rules

DO:

- Maintain clear space equal to the height of the "B" on all four sides.
- Use the logo at a minimum width of 180px digital / 40mm print.
- Use the full logo (BK + GROWTH ADVISORY) wherever possible.

DO NOT:

- Stretch, skew, or recolour the logo.
- Use the logo on backgrounds that reduce contrast below AA standards.
- Use the BK monogram alone without "GROWTH ADVISORY" in formal materials.
- Place the logo on busy photographic backgrounds without a dark overlay.

5. Voice & Tone

The Core Principle

BK Growth Advisory writes the way a smart, senior operator actually talks. Confident but not arrogant. Direct but not abrasive. Warm but not casual. Expert but never condescending. Every piece of content should feel like it came from someone who has spent years doing this work — not someone performing expertise.

Writing Principles

- Lead with the point. State the key insight or recommendation first. Context and rationale follow. Never bury the lede.
- Short sentences. If a sentence can be cut in two, cut it. Aim for an average sentence length of 15–18 words.
- No corporate filler. "In today's rapidly evolving landscape" is the enemy. Remove any phrase that says nothing.
- Australian English. Use -ise not -ize, -our not -or, -re not -er. Spelling, idioms, and references should feel Australian.
- Respect the reader's time. Assume the audience is a senior founder or marketing leader. They are not impressed by length.
- Say what you think. BK Growth Advisory has opinions. Share them. Hedge only when genuinely uncertain, and say so.

Voice by Content Type

Context	Register	Formality	Example
LinkedIn posts	Conversational, direct	Medium	"Most B2B SaaS companies spend too much on acquisition..."
Client proposals	Authoritative, warm	High	"This strategy is built around one principle: grow revenue first."
Strategy docs	Analytical, clear	High	"The primary constraint is not budget. It is the absence of a clear IC
Client emails	Professional, personal	Medium-high	"Happy to jump on a call this week to walk you through it."
Website copy	Sharp, confident	Medium	"You don't need a bigger team. You need a clearer strategy."
Social responses	Warm, engaged	Low-medium	"Good question — short answer is it depends on your stage."

Tone Adjustments

- Difficult truth: "This isn't working because X" — not "There may be some room for improvement."
- Praising work: Be specific, not effusive. "The positioning is strong — especially the ICP definition."
- Under time pressure: Lead with the action item, explain later.
- Founder vs CMO: Founders need more context. Marketing leaders need less setup.

6. Language Rules

Always Use

- Australian English spelling (recognise, optimise, colour, favour, centre).
- Active voice where possible.
- Specific numbers over vague claims ("3 of 5 clients" not "most clients").
- "We" in client-facing content (advisory relationship).
- "I" in personal thought leadership (LinkedIn, speaking).
- Full stops to end bullets that are complete sentences.

Banned Words

The following words are banned from all BK Growth Advisory content:

delve, realm, harness, unlock, tapestry, paradigm, cutting-edge, revolutionise, landscape, intricate, showcasing, cr

Punctuation Rules

- Em-dashes (—): Never. Use a comma or a full stop instead.
- Exclamation marks: Avoid in professional content. One maximum per document.
- Never open with: "Certainly\!", "Great question\!", "Absolutely\!", "Of course\!"
- Never open paragraphs with: "In today's...", "In the fast-paced world of..."

Preferred Alternatives

Banned Word	Use Instead
leverage	use, apply
optimise	improve, sharpen streamline	simplify, reduce innovative	new, different, better
robust	strong, solid, reliable
seamless	smooth, simple, easy
data-driven	evidence-based, informed by data empower	help, enable, give the ability to ecosystem	market, category, space
journey	process, path, experience

7. Content Templates

LinkedIn Post Structure

[Opening line – hook or provocation. One sentence. No "I" as the first word.]

[2-3 sentences of context or setup]

[The core insight, opinion, or finding – this is the value]

[Supporting detail, example, or evidence – 2-4 sentences]

[A closing observation or call to reflection – not a hard CTA]

[Optional: 2-3 hashtags, lower-case preferred]

Example LinkedIn Post:

Most B2B SaaS companies treat marketing as a demand gen function. It isn't.

Demand gen is one part of marketing. Positioning, product messaging, retention, and category design matter just as much – often more.

The companies that scale well have a CMO who works on all of it. Not just the pipeline number.

If your marketing leader is only measured on MQLs, you're leaving a lot on the table.

#b2bsaas #marketingstrategy #growthadvisory

Proposal Opening Paragraph

[One sentence on why this engagement matters – the business context]

[One sentence on what we are going to do]

[One sentence on what success looks like]

Example:

[Client] is at a stage where the marketing function needs to catch up with the ambition. This strategy sets out a 12-month plan to build a demand engine that matches the sales team's capacity and closes the gap to [ARR target]. Done well, it turns marketing from a cost centre into a measurable growth driver.

Email Signature Format

Bron Karaoglu
Founder, BK Growth Advisory bron@bkgrowthadvisory.com.au bkgrowthadvisory.com.au

No taglines. No motivational quotes. No social icons in the signature block.

8. AI-Specific Instructions

How to Load This File

Claude (Cowork): Add bk-brand-design-system.md as a knowledge source in your project. It loads automatically as context in every session.

Claude.ai: Paste the full file contents into the system prompt, or start each conversation: "Use the BK Growth Advisory brand system for all content in this session."

ChatGPT: Upload the file or paste it into the custom instructions field. Prepend sessions: "Follow the BK Growth Advisory brand guidelines for all output."

Gemini / Others: Paste the Voice & Tone and Language Rules sections into the system prompt or first message.

Core AI System Prompt

You are writing on behalf of BK Growth Advisory.
Apply the following rules to all output:

- Australian English spelling at all times
- Direct, confident, warm tone – no corporate filler
- Lead with the key point, then supporting detail
- No em-dashes – use commas or full stops
- Short sentences (average 15-18 words)
- Never use the banned word list from the BK brand system
- Never open with: Certainly, Great question, Absolutely, or similar
- Voice: first person "I" for personal content, "we" for client-facing
- When uncertain, say so explicitly – do not guess or hedge vaguely

Quality Checklist for AI-Generated Content

- Australian English spelling (no -ize, -or, -er where Australian variant exists)
- No em-dashes in the copy
- No banned words from the Language Rules list
- Key insight appears in the first 1-2 sentences
- Sentence length is appropriate – no run-ons
- Tone matches the content type (see Voice by Content Type table)
- No filler phrases at the opening
- Specific and concrete – no vague generalisations

9. Document Standards

All Client-Facing Documents

Element	Rule
File format	.docx as the primary deliverable; .pdf for final/locked versions.
Executive summary	Required on any document over two pages, at the top.
Cover page	Logo, document title, client name, date (format: April 2026).
Header	Document title (left), BK Growth Advisory (right).
Footer	Page number (centre), "Prepared for [Client]. Confidential." (right).
Colours	Warm Ivory background, Dark Charcoal body, Antique Gold for headers and dividers.
Font	Libre Baskerville body, Raleway headings.

Naming Conventions

All files follow this pattern:

[Client or Project] – [Document Type] – [YYYY-MM]

- e.g. Acme SaaS – GTM Strategy – 2026-04
- e.g. BK Growth Advisory – Capability Deck – 2026-04
- e.g. Client Discovery – Meeting Notes – 2026-04-15

10. Do's and Don'ts — Summary

Quick-reference checklist. Use this before finalising any deliverable.

DO	DON'T
Lead with the key point	Bury the insight at the end
Use Australian English spelling	Use American English variants
Be direct and specific	Hedge or use vague generalisations
Use Cormorant Garamond for display	Use default fonts (Arial, Calibri)
Use the defined colour palette	Introduce new colours without updating this system
Keep Sage Accent as a highlight only	Use Sage as a background or fill
Short sentences. Active voice.	Long, passive, clause-heavy sentences
Say what you think	Perform false neutrality
Use "use"	Use "leverage"
Warm Ivory for light backgrounds	Use pure white

Last updated: April 2026 | Owner: Bron Karaoglu, BK Growth Advisory | bron@bkgrowthadvisory.com.au