Dear Leeann,

Application: Chief Growth Officer

Please find my resume attached for the Chief Growth Officer role.

The brief describes an ASX-listed technology business at approximately $24–25M ARR with 32% subscription growth, entering a phase of disciplined commercial scale. That is a stage I know well. At Ignition, I owned the full growth agenda as an executive team member reporting directly to the CEO, spanning marketing, sales enablement, partnerships, and revenue operations. We scaled ARR from $15M to approximately $100M in under five years. The engine I built was multi-motion: PLG self-serve, sales-assisted for mid-market, and partner-led for SMB distribution, all running in parallel. I led the U.S. expansion from near-zero to our primary growth market, including localisation, ABM, and channel partnerships.

Earlier at SiteMinder (ASX: SDR), I was part of the leadership team that grew the business from approximately $15M to $100M+ ARR through ASX listing and a $1B+ valuation. I understand what disciplined commercial execution inside an ASX-listed technology company looks like, and what it takes to build it at this stage of growth.

At Genbook, ahead of its acquisition by Booksy, I owned the complete commercial function: sales, marketing, and partnerships across the U.S. and Australia. I have operated across all four functions this role requires and present at board and CEO level as standard.

I am based in Sydney and available for a confidential conversation at your convenience.

Warmly,

Bronwyn Karaoglu
